6th World day for Grandparents and the Elderly – July 26

By Pope Leo XIV

I will never forget you (Is 49:15)

The Church understands the suffering of her elderly members; she knows full well that they are all too often viewed through the lens of stereotypes and considered a burden; she is aware that a profit-driven economy weakens family ties; she knows that many elderly people are left behind by children who are forced to migrate or, in some cases, to fight in wars. For each of these reasons, she joyfully proclaims the Lord's promise: "But I will never forget you!" It is a joy, at any age, but especially when we are no longer young, to discover, as John Paul I said, that we are the recipients of undying love on the part of God.

We know: he has always his eyes open on us, even when it seems to be dark. He is our father; even more he is our mother" (Angelus, 10 September 1978).

Therefore, the invitation to return to the arms of God — whose love is both paternal and maternal — remains worthwhile at any age. For many, the discovery of God's tenderness takes place over the course of their lives, sometimes even in its final stages. In such cases, old age — beginning with the questions that arise with greater urgency during this season of life — can become the right time to begin or resume a spiritual life. On this new journey, one can recognize that God, as Saint Augustine says, "is a mother because He cherishes, because He nourishes, because He nurses, because He protects" (Commentary on Psalm 27, II, 18). It is an awareness that helps us not to feel ashamed of the fragility that emerges.

We will be honouring Grandparents and the Elderly on every weekend Masses on July 25th / 26th
